

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

Upon entry of this Amendment, Claims 45-50 will be pending in the application.

Independent Claim 45 has been amended to more clearly recite a system for providing financial accounting statements for a first entity, comprising: a first computer having at least one file from which an accounting statement may be generated; a second computer for receiving data inputs, said data inputs including electronically recorded financial transaction information made between said first entity and a second entity; and an open communication network capable of transferring said data inputs from said second computer to said file of said first computer, wherein said data inputs in said file of said first computer may be used to produce said accounting statements derived from said financial transaction information including income, expense, asset and/or liability information for said first entity.

Claims 28-44 and 51-70 have been canceled without prejudice.

Double Patenting

Claims 28 and 35-50 were rejected on the ground of non-statutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over certain claims of co-pending Application Serial No. 09/975,457. In view of the fact that the 09/975,457 application has been abandoned, it is submitted that the obviousness-type double patenting rejection based thereon should be withdrawn.

Claims 28, 35-51 and 67-69 were rejected on the ground of non-statutory obviousness-type double patenting over Claims 1-18 of U.S. Patent No. 5,875,435. Applicant notes that a Terminal Disclaimer over the 5,875,435 patent was previously submitted to the Office during prosecution of the present application on May 15, 2003. A copy of the previously submitted Terminal Disclaimer, and accompanying transmittal form, fee transmittal, facsimile cover sheet, and facsimile receipt confirmation are attached. It is submitted that that the previously submitted Terminal Disclaimer obviates the non-statutory double-patenting rejection over the 5,875,435 patent.

35 U.S.C. § 101 Rejections

Claims 28-44, 51-54, 63-66 and 70 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101 as allegedly being drawn to non-statutory subject matter. Applicant submits that these claims recite statutory subject matter. However, in view of the fact that Claims 28-44, 51-54, 63-66 and 70 have been canceled by the present Amendment, the 35 U.S.C. § 101 rejection has been obviated.

35 U.S.C. § 102 Rejections

Claims 28-39 and 41-70 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as allegedly being anticipated by Nelson '265. With respect to independent Claim 45, the Office Action states:

Nelson teaches a system, method and computer readable medium containing instruction for providing financial accounting statements for a first entity, comprising:

- a first computer having at least one file from which an accounting statement may be generated (see Finance Dept. Terminal (42));
- a second computer for receiving data inputs, said data inputs including electronically recorded financial transaction information made between said first entity and a second entity (see Fig. 2, Central Processing System (30), Record Storage (50);
- an open communication network for transferring said data inputs from said second computer to said file of said first computer (see Fig. 1, column 3, lines 7-12, 20-24; where different terminal are linked to processing system 20 through data communication link)
- means for performing two or more activities selected from the group consisting of entering, deleting, reviewing, adjusting and processing said data inputs, and producing said accounting statement derived from the financial transaction information including income, expense, asset and/or liability information for the first entity (see Fig. 2, Central Processing System (30); column 3, lines 65-67 to column 1-12; column 6, lines 26-31; column 9, lines 43-50).

Applicant submits that the presently claimed invention is patentable over Nelson '265. Independent Claim 45, as amended, recites a system for providing financial accounting statements for a first entity, comprising: a first computer having at least one file from which an accounting statement may be generated; a second computer for receiving data inputs, said data inputs including electronically recorded financial transaction information made between said first entity and a second entity; and an open communication network capable of transferring said data inputs from said second computer to said file of said first computer, wherein said data inputs in said file of said first computer may be used to produce said accounting statements derived from said financial transaction information including income, expense, asset and/or liability information for said first entity. The combination of features recited in Claim 45 is not taught or suggested by Nelson '265.

The Examiner is apparently reading the first computer recited in Claim 45 on the finance department terminal shown as element 42 in Fig. 1 of Nelson '265. However, as disclosed at column 3, lines 61-64 of the reference, the terminal (42) is merely used to print out periodic statements and billing statements for clients. There is no disclosure that the terminal (42) could be a computer, nor that such a terminal could be connected via an open communication network to receive data inputs including electronically recorded financial transaction information made between first and second entities, as recited in Claim 45. For at least those reasons, Claim 45, and Claims 46-50 which depend therefrom, are patentable over Nelson '265.

Supplemental Information Disclosure Statement

Applicant is in the process of preparing a Supplemental Information Disclosure Statement, which will be submitted to the Office under separate cover.

Conclusion

In view of the foregoing amendments and remarks, it is submitted that Claims 45-50 are patentable over the prior art of record, and the application is in condition for allowance. Accordingly, an early notice of allowance of this application is respectfully requested.

In the event that any outstanding matters remain in connection with this application, the Examiner is invited to telephone the undersigned at (412) 263-4340 to discuss such matters.

Respectfully submitted,
